

Acerca de este libro

Esta es una copia digital de un libro que, durante generaciones, se ha conservado en las estanterías de una biblioteca, hasta que Google ha decidido escanearlo como parte de un proyecto que pretende que sea posible descubrir en línea libros de todo el mundo.

Ha sobrevivido tantos años como para que los derechos de autor hayan expirado y el libro pase a ser de dominio público. El que un libro sea de dominio público significa que nunca ha estado protegido por derechos de autor, o bien que el período legal de estos derechos ya ha expirado. Es posible que una misma obra sea de dominio público en unos países y, sin embargo, no lo sea en otros. Los libros de dominio público son nuestras puertas hacia el pasado, suponen un patrimonio histórico, cultural y de conocimientos que, a menudo, resulta difícil de descubrir.

Todas las anotaciones, marcas y otras señales en los márgenes que estén presentes en el volumen original aparecerán también en este archivo como testimonio del largo viaje que el libro ha recorrido desde el editor hasta la biblioteca y, finalmente, hasta usted.

Normas de uso

Google se enorgullece de poder colaborar con distintas bibliotecas para digitalizar los materiales de dominio público a fin de hacerlos accesibles a todo el mundo. Los libros de dominio público son patrimonio de todos, nosotros somos sus humildes guardianes. No obstante, se trata de un trabajo caro. Por este motivo, y para poder ofrecer este recurso, hemos tomado medidas para evitar que se produzca un abuso por parte de terceros con fines comerciales, y hemos incluido restricciones técnicas sobre las solicitudes automatizadas.

Asimismo, le pedimos que:

- + Haga un uso exclusivamente no comercial de estos archivos Hemos diseñado la Búsqueda de libros de Google para el uso de particulares; como tal, le pedimos que utilice estos archivos con fines personales, y no comerciales.
- + No envíe solicitudes automatizadas Por favor, no envíe solicitudes automatizadas de ningún tipo al sistema de Google. Si está llevando a cabo una investigación sobre traducción automática, reconocimiento óptico de caracteres u otros campos para los que resulte útil disfrutar de acceso a una gran cantidad de texto, por favor, envíenos un mensaje. Fomentamos el uso de materiales de dominio público con estos propósitos y seguro que podremos ayudarle.
- + Conserve la atribución La filigrana de Google que verá en todos los archivos es fundamental para informar a los usuarios sobre este proyecto y ayudarles a encontrar materiales adicionales en la Búsqueda de libros de Google. Por favor, no la elimine.
- + Manténgase siempre dentro de la legalidad Sea cual sea el uso que haga de estos materiales, recuerde que es responsable de asegurarse de que todo lo que hace es legal. No dé por sentado que, por el hecho de que una obra se considere de dominio público para los usuarios de los Estados Unidos, lo será también para los usuarios de otros países. La legislación sobre derechos de autor varía de un país a otro, y no podemos facilitar información sobre si está permitido un uso específico de algún libro. Por favor, no suponga que la aparición de un libro en nuestro programa significa que se puede utilizar de igual manera en todo el mundo. La responsabilidad ante la infracción de los derechos de autor puede ser muy grave.

Acerca de la Búsqueda de libros de Google

El objetivo de Google consiste en organizar información procedente de todo el mundo y hacerla accesible y útil de forma universal. El programa de Búsqueda de libros de Google ayuda a los lectores a descubrir los libros de todo el mundo a la vez que ayuda a autores y editores a llegar a nuevas audiencias. Podrá realizar búsquedas en el texto completo de este libro en la web, en la página <http://books.google.com>

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. DEPARTMENT OF THE ARMY FIELD MANUAL

ESPERANTO THE AGGRESSOR LANGUAGE

HEADQUARTERS, DEPARTMENT OF THE ARMY

FEBRUARY 1962

FOREWORD

Esperanto has been adopted as the official language of Aggressor, the Maneuver Enemy. It may be modified by local usage or supplanted by the language of the local area. The primary benefit of using a different language is its contribution to the realistic intelligence play in training exercises. Where personnel are available with a proficiency in a foreign language, intelligence documents may be prepared in that particular language and injected into the exercise. This Esperanto Supplement has been compiled for use where trained linguists are not available. Users may modify these materials as deemed necessary to provide the desired settings for situations to accomplish training objectives.

SECTION I

INTRODUCTION

1. Purpose and Scope

This supplement provides United States forces, portraying AGGRESSOR, with a different language, the use of which will enhance intelligence play and add realism to field exercises. Included are an elementary grammar of the Esperanto language, English-Esperanto and Esperanto-English vocabularies, a table of commonly used phrases in everyday language and special tables on days and months, numerals, weights and measures, and approximate conversions.

2. General

a. Esperanto is not an artificial or dead language. It is a living and current media of international oral and written communication. Its basic rules of grammar are such that it will remain a live language because it can assimilate new words that are constantly being developed in existing world languages.

b. Esperanto was originally developed in 1887 by Dr. L. L. Zamenhof, a Russian physician who was seeking a common denominator for the different nationalities of the world to use as a means of communicating with each other. This new language took the name of the pseudonym (Dr. Esperanto—one who hopes) under which Dr. Zamenhof wrote.

c. The newborn language was accepted reluctantly and its growth was slow until early in the 20th century. During the Third Assembly of the League of Nations in 1922 the Esperanto language was adopted as the International Auxiliary Language. This act gave the language the much needed impetus and it is now published in 39 languages ranging from Afrikaans to Yiddish with the notable exception of Chinese. It is pointed out that Esperanto is not a language that was invented by Aggressor for use of the military forces, but rather it was adopted by Aggressor because of its international flavor. It is therefore consistent with the neutral or international identification implied by Aggressor.

d. Although Esperanto has been adopted as the official Aggressor language, it is not intended to prohibit the oral or written use of any foreign language or dialect by prisoners of war, casualties or other Aggressor personnel, or in the preparation of documents for use in intelligence training.

SECTION II

GRAMMAR

3. Rules of Grammar

a. Alphabet. The Esperanto alphabet consists of twenty-seven (27) letters: a, b, c, c, d, e, f, g, g, h, i, j, j, k, l, m, n, o, p, r, s, s, t, u, u, v, z. There is no q, w, x, or y.

b. Vowels. Esperanto vowels are pure vowel-sounds, unlike the "double" or diphthongal vowels common in English. They are pronounced as follows:

a—like the a in father

e—like the e in obey (without the y sound)

i—like the i in machine

o—like the o in show (without the w sound)

u—like the u in ruler

c. All Esperanto consonants are pronounced as in English with the exception of the nine (9) listed below which require special attention.

c—like the ts in wits (not like s or k)

c—like the ch in chair or lurch

g—like the g in gone or big

g—like the g in germ or ridge

j—like the y in boy or yoke

j—like the s in measure or leisure

s—like the s in sister or glass (never like z)

s—like the s in sugar or the sh in cash

v—like the w in wilt or coward

d. Esperanto has two consonantal vowels, each indicated by two letters of which the second letter is always a u with a mark over it:

u. Pronunciation is as follows:

au—like the ow in Howard

eu—like the ayw in wayward

e. Accent, Stress and Pronunciation. Every Esperanto letter has one sound only and every letter must be pronounced distinctly. There are no silent letters. Every word is pronounced as it is spelled. In words of more than one syllable, the accent or stress is always placed on the next to the last syllable: regimento, reh- ghee-MEN-toh; garantii, gah-rah-TEE-ee. There are no irregularities or exceptions to this rule for position of stress-accent.

f. The Seventeen (17) Basic Rules of Grammar.

- (1) There is no indefinite article (a, an). There is a definite article la (the) which is used for all the genders, both cases (nominative and accusative) and both numbers (singular and plural).
- (2) All nouns end in o. Example: rozo, a rose. There are only two cases: Nominative and accusative (objective). The accusative is formed simply by adding n to the nominative, singular or plural. Example: La knabino havas rozon. The girl has a rose. The plural is formed by adding j. Example: La knabinoj havas rozojn. The girls have roses.
- (3) All adjectives end in a. Examples: Beleta, pretty; ruga, red. They agree in number and case with the word modified. The accusative is formed by adding n. Example: La beleta knabino havas rugan rozon. The pretty girl has a red rose. The plural is formed by adding j. Example: La beletaĵ knabinoj havas rugaĵn rozojn. The pretty girls have red roses. The comparative degree is expressed by using the word pli before the adjective. The superlative degree is expressed by using plej before the adjective. Example: nova, new; pli nova, newer; plej nova, newest.
- (4) The basic numbers which do not change form are: unu (one), du (two), tri (three), kvar (four), kvin (five), ses (six), sep (seven), ok (eight), nau (nine), dek (ten), cent (hundred), mil (thousand). Tens and hundreds are formed by combining the basic numerals. Ordinals are formed by adding a to the cardinals; multiples, by adding obl; fractions, by adding on; and collectives, by adding op. Example: tria, third; triobla, triple; triono, one-third; triope, by threes.
- (5) The personal pronouns are: mi (I), vi (you), li (he), ŝi (she), ĝi (it), si (self), ni (we), vi (you), ili (they), oni (one, they, the people (indefinite)). The possessives are formed by adding a. The declension is the same as that of nouns.
- (6) The verb has one ending only for each of the separate tenses. The ending does not change to indicate first, second or third person, or singular or plural in number. The verb endings are as follows: as, present tense; is, past tense; os, future tense; us, conditional mood; u, imperative mood; i, infinitive mood. The active participles end in anta, inta and onta. Example: doni, to give; donanta, (is) giving; doninta, (was) giving; dononta, (will be) giving. The passive participles end in ata, ita, and ota. Example: donata, (is) given; donita, (was) given; donota, (will be) given. The passive voice and all compound tenses of the active voice are formed by using the only auxiliary verb in the language: esti, to be, plus the participle, ie, present participle estas donanta, is giving; estis doninta, was giving; estos dononta, will be giving; passive participle; estas donata, is given; estis donita, was given, estos donota, will be given. To conjugate verbs the infinitive ending i is dropped in all instances unless expressed as an infinitive in the statement, ie, Li estas doni. He is to give.

- (7) The adverb ends in e. Comparison is expressed as for adjectives. Example: brile, brightly; pli brile, more brightly; plej brile, most brightly.
- (8) All prepositions are followed by the nominative case.
- (9) Every word is pronounced as it is spelled.
- (10) The accent or stress is always on the next to the last syllable.
- (11) Compound words are formed merely by joining together the desired words. Hyphens are not necessary, but they are commonly used in certain numerals and geographical names.
- (12) The negative word ne (no, not) is omitted from a sentence when another negative word is present. Example: Li havas nenion por mi. He has nothing for me.
- (13) The ending of the accusative case, n, is added to a word in order to express "direction towards." Example: Li iris gardenon. He went toward the garden ("gardenward").
- (14) Each preposition has a definite meaning; but if the direct sense does not indicate which preposition should be used, the "general" preposition je is employed. Example: Ili venis je grandaj nombroj. They came in great numbers.
- (15) No change is made in "international" words nor in most of the proper names, except to make them conform to Esperanto spelling. Examples: mikrofono, microphone; mikrofona, microphonic; mikrofone, microphonically; Londono, London.

- (16) The final vowel o of a noun and a of the article may sometimes be dropped and be replaced by an apostrophe. The elision occurs almost solely in poetry.
- (17) The word cu introduces a question, when no other question word such as kio, what, or kiu, who, is used. To form a question begin the regular statement with cu. Example: Vi parolas Esperante. You speak Esperanto. Cu vi parolas Esperante ? Do you speak Esperanto ?

g. Prefixes and Suffixes. These are used in Esperanto to give richness and flexibility to the language. Translators will find that a thorough knowledge of them is extremely valuable.
